Hi, sitter! Welcome in.

Leave this packet on the counter. That is not laziness — it is the plan.

Our household .....

Tonight's date .....

You are keeping the kids tonight, and we want to make it easy. This packet is our way of saying nothing here should be a mystery. It is two pages of the good stuff: the phone numbers, the food, the bedtimes, and the weird little things that make this place run. Read the two pages once, and you are basically a member of the family.

THE TWO-MINUTE TOUR

Page 2, the details sheet: emergency numbers at the top, then kids, food, routines, house quirks, and how we close up. Skim the orange boxes first.

The counter: where this packet lives, plus the treat-fairness card. Consult the card before negotiating with anyone about candy. It settles all disputes.

Snacks you may raid: the gold cabinet and the fruit bowl. Everything else means ask us first.

IF WE CANNOT BE REACHED

First phone ..... cell or the venue

Second phone ..... worth it, really

Backup adult ..... knows the house

BEFORE WE HAND YOU THE KEYS

We walk through together: alarms, locks, kids' rooms, and where the medicine lives.

- ☐ Doors locked behind us
- ☐ Wi-Fi password works for you
- ☐ Kids settled and introduced
- ☐ You know where page 2 stays

WHEN THE NIGHT ENDS

- ☐ Text us that you are safely out
- ☐ Put this packet on the counter, not the fridge

Best case, we come home early and everything is boring — that is the goal. Boring is the profession's finest compliment.

Thanks a million. When you are all grown and busy someday, we will still be bragging about you. Somewhere around here there is also a printable thank-you certificate with your name on the line — details when we get home.

Babysitter details

One page. Everything that matters. Keep it on the counter.

Our address .....

Cross streets .....

Emergencies: call 911 first

Fire, injury, scary stranger — 911, then us, then the backup below.

NUMBERS TO CALL

Us, anytime .....

Us, if busy .....

Backup adult .....

Pediatrician .....

Poison Control 1-800-222-1222

KIDS ROSTER

NAME & NICKNAME	BEDTIME & HOW	COMFORT ITEM

What works when upset .....

FOOD & FEEDING

Dinner time .....

Approved extras .....

Off the menu .....

- ☐ Allergies: check the counter card
- ☐ Meds due tonight — doses on the roster

ROUTINES

Bedtime steps .....

Screen rules .....

Treat rules ..... see card!

Quiet-time trick .....

HOUSE QUIRKS

Wi-Fi & password .....

Off-limits spots .....

Fix this first ..... usually the TV

Anything weird .....

DOOR & LOCKS

Close up like this .....

Alarm keypad ..... code here

Last door to lock .....

Door chime means .....

After tonight: if the peace held and everyone is fed, you have earned the printable thank-you certificate in this pack. When we get back, we fill in your name — best five minutes of the week. Now put this page on the counter, right where page 1 says.