Hi, sitter! You are on animal clock now.

Leave this packet on the counter. That is not laziness — it is the plan.

Household name .....

Visit dates .....

Thank you for watching the crew, feathers and scales included. This packet holds everything you need: the phone numbers, the vet, the feeding schedule, the walk times, and the small weird facts that no website knows — like where the shy one hides and which door latches trick everyone. Two pages, one minute to read, and you will run this place almost as well as we do.

THE TWO-MINUTE TOUR

Page 2, the details sheet: vet and emergency numbers on top, feeding schedule, meds, potty times, house quirks, and close-up notes. The orange box is the important one.

The counter: where this packet lives, next to a treat-fairness card — yes, it applies to the dog too. Strictly. We do not discuss exceptions.

Leashes & supplies: hooks by the side door and handles in the painted bin. Please put them back there.

IF WE CANNOT BE REACHED

Our phones ..... either of us, text first

Emergency vet ..... address is on page 2

Backup helper ..... knows the animals

BEFORE YOU TAKE OVER SOLO

We walk through together: feeding spots, watering, lock tricks, and who needs a slow hello first.

- ☐ Garage & doors tested
- ☐ You met every animal
- ☐ You found the meds
- ☐ Pet phone numbers in your phone

AT THE END OF EACH VISIT

- ☐ All animals present and accounted
- ☐ Doors locked behind you
- ☐ Fold the packet back on the counter

A two-line text update while we are away means the world: who ate, who barfed, who plotted.

You are officially the good kind of houseguest: always there, never on the couch unless invited. When the stay wraps up, there is a printable thank-you certificate waiting in this pack — we fill in your name and keep it pinned to the fridge forever.

Pet sitter details

One page. Every animal. Keep it on the counter.

Our address .....

Days you visit .....

Pet trouble? Call the animal hospital first

Blood, bloat, seizures, eating rocks — emergency vet, then us, then backup.

NUMBERS TO CALL

Us, anything .....

Emergency vet .....

After-hours vet .....

Our regular vet .....

Pet poison line ASPCA 888-426-4435

Backup helper .....

THE ROSTER

PET & LOOK	MEDS & DOSE	SHY / SCARED OF

Where each sleeps .....

POTTY & WALKS

Times out .....

Route & leash notes .....

Litter / yard duty .....

FEEDING SCHEDULE

PET	BREAKFAST	DINNER & TREATS

Water dishes ..... refresh daily

Where food lives .....

- ☐ Feed calm, feed same amounts
- ☐ Treats: fairness card only

HOUSE QUIRKS

Wi-Fi & password .....

Off-limits spots .....

The flaky thing .....

Who destroys what ..... honestly

DOOR & LOCKS

Close up like this .....

Alarm keypad ..... code here

Last door to lock .....

Trimmed for tails ..... hold treats, shut gently